GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE for January, 1843. Israel Post, No.

This capital Magazine presents a most beautiful number with which to commence the New Year. Printed in most excellent style and adorned with engravings in the finest style of the art, its literary contents are of a stamp in every way worthy of the beautiful dress in which they are embodied. The Editors, Messrs. Graham & Griswold, have spared no pains to enlist as constant contributors the most eminent writers in this country: and the Magazine occupies a position far above that of any other American periodical. In the present number BRYANT, LONGFELLOW, WILLIS, POE, Mrs. SMITH, and many other well-known writers have articles both in prose and verse. We have already copied Longfellow's Poem-' The Belfrey of Bruges,' and will now extract the following beau-

ON THE LATE S. T. COLERIDGE. BY WASHINGTON ALLSTON.

AND thou art gone, most loved, most honored Friend No-never more thy gentle voice shall blend With air of Earth its pure ideal tones— Binding in one, as with harmonious zones, The heart and intellect. And I no more Shall with thee gaze on that unfathomed deep, The Human Soul; as when, pushed off the shore, Thy mystic bark would through the darkness sweep Itself the while so bright! For oft we seemed As on some starless sea-all dark above, All dark below-yet, onward as we drove, To plough up light that ever round us streamed. But he who mourns is not as one bereft Of all he loved : thy living Truths are left.

Braithwaite's Retrospect of Practical Medicine and Surgery. Part III. January—July, 1841. New-York: Adee & Estabrook, 160 Nassau street.

We are glad to see this important and valuable publication meets with the encouragement which the prompt issue of its successive numbers would indicate. It has a high reputation in England as among the very best periodical compends of medical science published in Europe; and the full notices which it gives of all new discoveries, either in the theory or practice of Medicine and Surgery, must make it of essential worth to every member of the medical profession. Its Editor has a high reputation abroad, and he announces that his researches in future will embrace, to a still greater extent than they have yet done, the most celebrated of the French and German periodicals. It is published in this city in a very neat and convenient, though sheap and generally accessible, form. SAINT NICHOLAS'S BOOK, for all Good Boys and Girls

This is a pleasant collection of stories, narratives and illustrations, adapted to the Holiday Season. As a Christmas Gift to young readers, it must be peculiarly acceptable.

THE BOOK OF THE CHURCH: By ROBERT SOUTHEY, LL. D. Abridged and Adapted for the Young, and for Sunday Schools. D. Appleton & Co.

This is a very neat 18mo volume, tracing the History of the (now) Protestant Episcopal Church, from the earliest to the present time. A familiarity with it will doubtless enable Churchmen to answer many questions of opposers which may otherwise perplex them. The narrative is lucid and inter-

This is a well printed 8mo of 231 pages, very compact and neat. We believe it is a standard one with Churchmen, and used in many if not most Episcopal Sunday Schools.

HUTTON'S BOOK OF NATURE LAID OPEN. By Rev. J. L. Blake, D. D. A. V. Blake, New-York. This is a little book prepared for the young, embracing notices of various objects in nature-veget-

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 15, 1842.

The Navy and Naval App ointments. To the Editor of The Tribune :

Permit me to call your attention to the facts in the following communication, and to ask the favor of an insertion in your columns, in reply to an article signed "A Friend to

I know very well that it is not your habit to admit in your paper articles unjustly reflecting on any one, and I am perfectly convinced if you had been rightly informed upon this subject the article in question would never have found its way into your paper. Independently of the injustice done to the Secretary of the Navy, and to Commander Buchanan and Lieut. Upshur, I am sure your good wishes for the welfare of the service, at which such attacks aim a deadly blow, will prompt you to give a place to a fair counter

I will, in a subsequent communication, show that Comander Buchanan's case is pari passu with Lt. Upsher's. I have noticed in your paper of the 28th ult. an article signed "A Friend to Justice and the Navy," a title to which the writer has no earthly claim, if one may be permitted to judge from the assertions contained in the article, which

It is truly to be regretted by every friend and well wisher of the service, that the untiring efforts of the present efficient head of the Department to produce a thorough reform in the Navy, should be occasionally met by such gross and unjust attacks as the present one, and is the more to be regretted for the welfare of the service, that Editors, who would not knowingly do injustice, should publish such articles without first ascertaining their truth. cles without first ascertaining their truth.

A plain statement of the facts in relation to the appointment of Commander Buchanan and Lieut. Upshur to their present commands will convince any reasonable man how utterly untrue and slanderous is the article in question. If you will take the trouble to glance at the Register, you will find the following statement to be true:

Lieut. Upshur stands, numerically, the 29th on the list of Lieutenants. The first four—viz: Lieuts. Oellers, Crowley, by Lient. Upshur's appointment, twenty-eight meritorious officers above him have been upjustly dealt with.

nim. Id. Johnson, two below him, has been appointed to the command of the brig Bainbridge, and I further find the following officers below him have had or are now in com-mands, and not a word of complaint has been uttered in regard to them.

Lt. Blake, one below him, has a command on the Coast
Survey, which he has had for six years.

Lt. Bullus has now, and has had for the last year, command of the brig Boxer; he is nine below him.

Lt. S. S Lee, twenty four below him, has bad command f a receiving vessel.

Lt. Hunter, forty-five below him, has command of the Navy, I have not the smallest doubt that he is one of the class I have alluded to, and whose standing in the service would not entitle him to the command of a frigate's dinggy if he stood at the head of the list of captains.

Rank is not the only recommendation to command. It is the paramount duty of the Secretary to see that the officer is competent to the particular service required. This the interest of the country and the honor of the flag demand. All other requisites being equal, of course seniority would govern him in his selection.

If my suspicious he true that the article is from an officer.

INDIANA .- The Legislature of Indiana convened at Indianapolis on the 5th inst. In the Senate, Thomas D. Walpole, Whig, was chosen President pro tem. Thomas J. Henley, Loco, was elected Speaker of the House. The details of the votes have not yet reached us. Governor Bigger, in his Message to the Legislature, states that nearly all the receipts for taxes &c., during the past year, have consisted in treasury notes of the State; and that of $26,878 which fell to Indiana as her portion of the Land Proceeds, $13,975 has been withheld by the General Government for arrears of interest due on Indiana Bonds purchased by the General Government and invested in the Chickasaw and Choctaw Annuities; leaving a balance of $12,903 to the credit of the State. This may be set down as the amount of money available to meet the expenses of the State the present year.

" As regards the condition of our foreign debt, (says the Governor,) there has been no material change since the last meeting of the Legislature. No part of the interest has been paid. The suspended debt has been made the subject of very considerable investigation by the State agent, and the result is to strengthen the probability that nearly the whole of the amount will prove a total loss. Of the collateral securities, it is not probable that more can be realized from them than half a million; and even to save this amount will re quire much care and attention."

The Governor speaks of Repudiation in a manly tone, regretting the course Indiana has been obliged to take, and protesting, "in the name of the whole People of Indiana, against that indiscriminating censure and reproach which place those who have become unable, by unavoidable circumstances to discharge their just liabilities, on the same level with the wilful repudiator." He speaks of the accumulated burdens and difficulties, the prostration of business, the embarrassments of the currency, and all the other causes which have norne down the State, and rendered her unable to pay her just liabilities. "To exact impossibilities," he says, "and then to affix the brand of infamy under such circumstances, is, to say the least, unwise. The exercise of no man's honesty is quickened by reproaches which he feels to be unmerited.'

He then adds:

"It is the future which must determine whether we are a faith-keeping people. As for myself, I have a deep and abiding confidence in the integrity and enterprise of the people of Indiana, in the extent to which her resources may be developed. and in the realization of those means which can and will be supplied to discharge those obligations, the avoidance of which will bring upon us merited and lasting infamy."

Under the act of the last Legislature that pro vides for the letting of the Public Works, the Whitewater Valley Canal and the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad have been leased. The message is confined wholly to the local concerns of

The condition of the State Bank, on the 31st of October, is stated. Its discounts were $2,867,-917; its specie $799,047. The circulation was $1,732,518; the deposites $1,811,248.

FREE NEGRO SAILORS .- Several free negro sailors (says the Franklin La. Banner) who have been brought to this port in contravention of law, are now confined in the jail of this Parish, where until the vessels to which they belong are ready to proceed to sea. It is the duty of the officers in rom any other State, having on board any free negroes, mulatto or person of color.

We thought there was in the Constitution of the United States some such provision as this: The citizens of each State shall enjoy all the rights of citizens in every other State." If so, by what right are citizens of New-York and Massachusetts imprisoned in Louisiana and other States for no offence but their color ? 'The Constitutional guaranties' should be respected when they do not favor Slavery as well as when they do.

DARING ROBBERY ON BOARD STEAMBOAT .-During the passage of the steamer New Haver from New-York to Norwich, on Saturday evening last, a very worthy old gentleman by the name of Mr. Luther Pickering, of Greenland, N. H., was robbed of about $500 in cash, and a gold watch worth $100 more. For the better security, as he supposed, of his money and watch, he placed them under his pillow when he took his berth. [Boston Mail.

Two Indiana Towns NEARLY DESTROYED .-Mooresville, Ind., was almost totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday night of last week. It contained some 600 inhabitants, and about 50 houses. On the 26th ult.. Muncietown, in Delaware Co. Ind., was also visited by a most disastrous fire. Two printing offices, one dry goods store, one tailor's shap, one iron ware store, and the Recorder's office, with their contents, were totally consumed. Loss $6,000.

NAVIGATION OF THE MISSISSIPPL .- A memorial to Congress on the subject of improving the navigation of the Mississippi, was published in the St. Louis Republican a few days since. It is stated in the document that in four years 132 steamboats were lost in the river, occasioning a pesuniary loss adopted by the free votes of the great majority of of $3,710,000. Between the 11th of September the whole people, shall become in fact, as in right, and the 15th of October, this year, eight boats were lost, causing a destruction of property to the amount of $219,000, and the loss of forty or fifty the church—and that the minister shall pray for lives. ABOLITION OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT .- The House of Representatives of New Hampshire have declared, by a vote of 111 to 106, in favor of the total abolition of capital punishment.

The steamboat Iris, Capt. Webb, on her passage from this port, ran foul of a snag just below Eddyville, Ky., and sunk in 12 feet water. She bound for Cincinnati. We understand there was no insurance on her. [Nashville Banner.

VENERABLE APPLE TREE .- In the garden of the Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Hingham, is an apple tree 200 years old. Twenty years ago it was hollow, and was supported by a mere shell, a rind the country. not more than two inches in thickness. Mr. Richardson then had occasion to raise the ground for a way, to the height of 5 or 6 feet, with stone and gravel. This gave the tree new life; it has since flourished, and is now a very constant bearer. Any common sized man may go down into this tree as into a well, to the depth of 6 feet.

FREE TRADE FALLACIES .- ANECDOTE .- The editor of the Cleveland Herald, after making some judicious remarks in reference to Loco-Foco and Southern Free Trade fallacies, tells the following rich anecdote to illustrate his subject:

We witnessed an amusing incident a few years since in the United States Senate, bearing upon this subject. John M. Niles, who was at the time a Senator from Connecticut, arose in his place and declared himself a friend of the poor, that he went for the great mass-that the common people were his chosen constituents, and finally concluded by offering a resolution, for the sole benefit of his poor constituency, as he said, calling for a reduction of the duty on coal. Well, the speech was the speech of a demagogue—he wished to be called the poor man's representative-the friend of the masses—the fearless champion of democracy—and this speech was published by the party at the time, as proof of their exclusive devotion to the common people.

After Mr. Senator Niles had proudly seated himself, one Daniel Webster, a Senator at that time from Massachusetts, leisurely arese, and drew from his drawer a printed document, and, without itors, or still longer held-whereupon it was sol emply declared that the governmental policy of the United States was variable, fluctuating, and unstable-that their Tariff was of uncertain coninvance and of frequent modification-and that the duty on COAL would probably soon be greatly reduced, if not entirely abolished-and then the noble Duke's creditors could open and work the late noble Duke's coal mines, monopolise the American coal market, and in a few years command their own price for coal!

Therefore it was unanimously resolved by the said meeting of creditors, that the extensive coal mines of the late noble Duke of York should be withheld from sale, for the purpose and intent of soon monopolising the American coal trade as afore-

Mr. Webster having gravely concluded the reading of said proceedings, as gravely addressed these words to the Chair:-" Mr. President, it would seem from the proceedings and resolutions which I have read, that the Senator from Connecticut, instead of being the representative of any class or grade of American citizens, upon this floor, and upon this question, is in truth and in fact the representative of the creditors of the late noble Duke of York !"

The application was withering, and the rebuke of the demagogue overpowering. There was an irrepressible burst of approbation from the Senators and gallery, and poor Doctor Niles's anxiety about the duly on coal was forever hushed in they will be kept at the expense of their Captains | the last session of the Legislature, committees were appointed in both houses to examine into and report on the condition of the bonds issued by the charge of all Ports of Entry, or Landings, in this territory under the act of 12th February, 1841, and State to notify the nearest Judge or Justice of the how they had been negotiated, and what amount Peace of the arrival of every vessel or steamboat the territory would be liable to pay; and that those committees reported that only one bond of one thousand dollars had been negotiated according to law by the agent for the territory, though he had disposed of some thirty or forty bonds; and that the territory were not bound to pay any but the bond of one thousand dollars. During the month of May last, Mr. Stow, of Milwaukee, procured a summons from the District Court of Cane County, against the territory, on a repudiated bond owned by a Mr. Doughty, which was served on the Governor and Treasurer of the territory. At the present term of the District Court a motion has been argued to compel the territory to appear and plead. The Court gave its decision on the motion on Thursday last, ordering the Attorney General to appear in the case. What will be the final result we are unable to say at present. [ Wisconsin Dem.

NOVELTY IN RAILWAYS .- The Directors of the Manchester and Birmingham Railway have resolved, without one dissentient voice, to form a junction with the Manchester and Leeds at Hants Bank. This is to be effected by means of a tunnel, under the very centre of the town, at a depth of twenty feet from the surface. The carriages and passengers will have to be raised and lowered by means of a steam-engine.

The Paris Moniteur announces that M Diard'has just arrived at Havre after an absence brought with him a collection of great interest, including thirty barrels of the black varnish so useful in coloring china, and of which the Chinese had hitherto carefully concealed the secret. M. Diard has likewise imported from Java a number of new plants, which, owing to the extraordinary care taken of them, have not suffered the least injury.

The truth is, there is a class of officers in the service—and I regret to say that it is not a very small class—who, from professional incompatency or moral delinquency, are not to be entrusted with a command, and who regard with jeal-osition and complaint.

A plain statement of the facts in relation to the appoint-

Lieutenants. The first four—viz: Lieuts. Oellers, Growley, Farragut and Ellery—have long sixee ceased to be thought of by any one for promotion. Lieuts. Nicholas, Dupent, Hudsen and Wilson, are now entitled to promotion by vacancies recently occurring by death and sentences of Court Martial. Eight are thus disposed of, which of course leaves Lieut. Upshur, in point of fact, the 21st on the list. Now let us see how the 20 above are employed, and how far the writer of the article is justified in making the assertion that, by Lieut Hosburg's appropriate the entry-eight meritorious

Is Lieutenant Upshur to be deprived of his just right to a command earned by long, faithful and efficient services, because he is the brother of the Secretary; or is the Secretary to be deterred from cenceding to him his rights because some writer, regardless of truth, chooses to attack him for so doing? If my suspicious he true that the article is from an officer, his conduct cannot be too sternly rebuked by his brother officers. RILLA IN NORWICH

Read the following from Mrs. Wm. Phillips, who has ong resided at the Falls. The facts are well known to all the old residents in that part of the city.

MESSRS. A. B. SANDS & CO., SIRS: Most gratefully do 1 embrace this opportunity for stating to you the great relief I obtained from the use of your Sarsaparilla. I shall also be happy, through you, to publish to a l who are afflicted. as I lately was, the account of my unexpected, and even for a long while despaired of cure. Mine is a painful story and trying and sickening as is the narrative of it, for the sake of many who may be so surely relieved, I will briefly yet accurately state it.

Nineteen years ago last April a fit of sickness left me with an Erysipelas eruption. Dropsical collections immediately took place over the entire surface of my body, causing such an enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to the size of my dresses around the waist. Next followed. from his drawer a printed document, and, without making the most distant allusion to Mr. Senator Niles's speech, stated that he would call the attention of the Senate a moment to said document.— It was the proceedings of a meeting of the creditors of the Duke of York, then recently held in London. The noble Duke was the brother of King George IV. and after spending a prodigal life, he died in debt to every one who trusted him, and insolvent to an astonishing amount. It seemed also that the noble Duke died seized of large tracts of coal lands in New Brunswick, which had been assigned to Trustees for the benefit of his creditors.

Now these noble creditors of a noble Duke had met to decide whether these coal lands should be sold at once, and the proceeds divided among creditors of a will leave the held met to decide whether these coal lands should be sold at name and winter, the only adjusted wast. In this critical condition, given up by friends, and expecting for myself, relief only in death, I was by the timely inter-position of a kind Providence, turnished with your, to use, invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assur-ance of health, which for twenty years I had not once felt. ance of health, which for twenty years I had not once left.
Upon taking the second, my enlargement diminished, and in twelve days from the 8th October, when I commenced taking your Sarsaparilla, I was able to enjoy sleep andrest, by night, as refreshing as any I ever enjoyed when in perfect health. Besides, I was, in this short time, relieved from all those exerutiating and unalleviated pains that had afflicted my days, as well as robbed me of my night's repose. The ulcers upon my limbs are healed, the Erysipelas cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

the Erysipelas cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

Thus much do I feel it a privilege to testify to the efficacy of your health-restoring Sarsaparilla. A thousand thanks, sirs, from one whose comfort and whose hope of future health are due, under God, to your instrumentality. And may the same Providence that directed me to your aid, make you the happy and honored instruments of blessing others, as diseased and despairing as your much relieved and very grateful friend.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 19, 1842. MESSES. SANDS—GENTLEMEN: If you alone were con-cerned in the present statement, the great inducement for naking it would be removed; for of course no testimony cerned in the present statement, the great inducement for making it would be removed; for of course no testimony can strengthen your own convictions in relation to the value and efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, which has already proved such a blessing to the many hundreds who have used it. But I have looked upon the world encircling in its arms thousands bowed down with sufferings sitaliar to my own, who would gladly hasten to the same source that restored my health, if they were persuaded they would meet with the same happy results. Therefore, gentlemen, it is that those thousands may be convinced, and profit by their conviction as I have done, that induces me to state before the world a period of suffering such as few have known, and the permanent relief I received from your Sarsaparilla. But how shall I begin, or how describe those excruciating agonies that seized upon my frame? Early in the month of June, 1840, I was first attacked with rheumatism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cold matism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cold contracted while nursing one of my children, who was then very ill.

My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seemed diseased. For five months I was unable to walk, and for six weeks did not lie upon a bed, but was obliged to remain in a sitting posture, that being less agonizing than any other. My whole body was so sore and racked with pain that the slightest touch caused inexpressible distress. For a period of many months I did not sleep but two nights, and the only rest I obtained was during the day, when nature became exhausted and I fell into a slumber, from which I was soon awakened by the beating and throbbing pain. My limbs were swollen and my shoulders drawn out of place, and altogether I was rendered eatirely helpless. I obtained the best medical advice, but without receiving any permanent relief. The rheumatism being combined with a swelling and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still warening and the joints. ing and painful aff-ction of the joints, rendered it still warse Tumors formed under the skin, round my head, which caused burning and ianciating pains similar to scrolula of My groans at night caused the watchman to stap in the

My groans at night caused the watchman to stop in the street as he passed by; and when many of my friends residing in Poughkeepsie last visited me, they bid me farewell, as they then thought for ever; and once the family assembled in the room to watch the last spark of live go out. But the flame of lite again glared up within me; and soon after this I heard of your Sarsaparilla, and determined to try it; and behold the result. After taking one bottle the pain left me, and I was able to walk and sleep. I could scarcely realize the transition—so sudden, so complete. Alter using four or five bottles, I was entirely curred. And are you alone, gentlemen, concerned to know it? I think not; and this language is too mild for the occasion. For I know that the medicine that possesses the power to cure me not; and this language is too mild for the occasion. For I know that the medicine that possesses the power to cure me is capable of conferring the same blessing upon thousands of others suffering—perhaps dying; therefore, these are all concerned to know that they can be cured. In fact, all are concerned in the discovery of any thing that tends to promote the happiness of the human race; for we are social beings, and cannot suffer alone. Persons may doubt this statement if they will, and go on and suffer and die, I have discharged a duty which I felt incumbent upon me in making it known for the benefit of those who choose to believe it. And when I look into the past—upon those solitary days ing it known for the benefit of those who choose to believe it. And when I look into the past—upon those solitary day and sleepless nights—I thank God that I as as I am. And I thank you, gentlemen, that you kave made science minister into our infrasities, and I, for one, will proclaim the Respectfully.
